

50,000 DIED IN MOSLEM RIOTS

Death List Continues To Grow Larger As Different Districts Are Heard From.

RIOTING CONTINUES IN ADANA

Remote Sections Of Empire Show That Prearranged Massacres Were Carried Out As Directed By Former Sultan With Ferocity.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
TARBUS, May 4.—The most moderate estimate of the dead, due to the Moslem riots, in this district is given at ten thousand, while other figures place the number of dead at twenty-five thousand and even higher than this figure.
Were Unwilling.—The murders were unpremeditated in their work of slaughter. Even Greeks and Syrians who came in the rancor of their swords or guns were struck down and brutally murdered. The majority of those killed, however, were Armenians.
Whole Villages.—Little villages of five and six hundred inhabitants were wiped out entirely. The men and male children were shot down and killed while the young girls and comely matrons were taken into captivity to be sold into harems of the Turk capturers.
Farms Desolated.—The farms in many localities in the province are entirely desolated and the buildings burned. Entire families were wiped out and their corpses thrown into the burning homes where they were consumed. Other bodies were left to rot on the field.
Much Suffering.—With everything destroyed there is bound to be much suffering among the survivors and many fear that the slaughter is not yet over and are panic stricken. Food, clothing and shelter is needed and also medical care for the wounded.
Investigation of the charges. The judges stated such a procedure would have no jurisdiction unless impeachment proceedings were started.

Mr. Newton says work on the boats of the Goodrich fleet is well under way and that the company will be operating in the present month.
Find Lost Boat.—The lighter Dabney, which was picked up off Fox Point Saturday, with the crew missing and thought lost, was towed out of port here Wednesday night by the Lighthouse Vessel Hiner Wickwarro. Local marine men criticized the government weather bureau declaring that had proper warning of the storm been given some of the lost vessels would never have ventured out. The Dabney was here while the Wickwarro was loading at the Wisconsin Central docks.
Firm Changes Hands.—Joseph Bigel has retired from the Schoch Lumber Co., the largest lumbering concern in this section of the state, his interests having been taken over by Fred Schoch, whose father founded the business and who has been associated with Mr. Bigel. There will be no change in management of the business which embraces yards and planing mills.

WORLD'S PEACE WAS TOPIC DISCUSSED

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Chicago, Ill., May 4.—"The Association of Cosmopolitan clubs will join in rearing upon foundations already laid the superstructure of a world state in which the intelligence and civic virtue of every race shall be associated for the common weal of man," said Louis P. Lochner, a member of the University of Wisconsin, addressing the second National Peace congress here this afternoon. Mr. Lochner, who was instrumental in the organization of the Association of Cosmopolitan clubs and was its first president last year, is a member of the International club of the University of Wisconsin, and was accompanied by four other delegates from the club, Chu Tung Tsai, '11, Canton, China; Quoktal Chao, '10, Shanghai, China; Juente Kamantigue, '11, Lima, Cavite, P. I.; and Le Grande Dyke, '11, Prairie du Chien.

"Internationalism is in no sphere more conspicuous than in the scholarly world," said Mr. Lochner. "Cecil Rhodes has rendered inestimable service by establishing scholarships for German, American, and colonial students. His example was emulated by the German emperor, who instituted a policy of exchange professors and fellows. Other countries followed. During the past year 270 young Chinese were sent to the United States, chiefly upon the encouragement of the imperial government. The Philippine government annually offers 100 scholarships. The number of students from Central and South American countries in the colleges and technical schools of this country is estimated at several thousand. At the University of Wisconsin the number of foreign students has risen from seven, in '99, to 96 this year. The complexion of the American student body is thus assuming an entirely new character and the question becomes pertinent, what is being done to meet these new conditions? I believe the partial solution is in the work of the Association of Cosmopolitan clubs."

Eliminates Race Prejudice.—"This association, composed of foreign students in nineteen leading universities, has a total membership of 1,400, representing almost sixty countries. Its purpose is to bring to sister college students from different countries, to aid and direct foreign students coming to America, to eliminate racial prejudice, and to establish international friendships. In 1903 there was but one such club, in all the American institutions of learning. Last year, a national organization was perfected at Madison with eight chapters, all represented by delegates. In the one year of united work which has followed the number of chapters has more than doubled, and soon every large institution of learning will count such an organization among its valuable assets."

In the words of the venerable secretary of the American Peace society, Dr. Benjamin Frothingham, "An agency for promoting the final establishment of permanent peace among the nations, there is nothing in the educational sphere likely to bear richer fruit." Close personal contact between peoples of different races is a necessary prerequisite to any movement for world peace. National antipathies rest for a large part on mutual ignorance. In the Cosmopolitan club young men from sixty countries are brought in contact with each other. They learn to understand, respect, and carry home with them the message of peace on earth, good will to mankind. "The foreign students are representatives of the flower of their nation, in most cases, men coming from the very best of families. Many are sent by their governments. They will occupy positions of trust and honor in their respective communities. They will become the leaders of public opinion, and even of the political action of their nation. In proportion as they learn to understand each other and to realize that war and hostility are thoughts unworthy of the rising generation, will the hopes of the realization of world peace be increased."

NEW SYSTEM FOR BUILDING ROADS

TWO BILLS ALMOST ALIKE INTRODUCED IN LEGISLATURE.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 4.—While Assemblyman Jones of Monroe county was perfecting two amendments to his bill for state aid to highways, this morning, that the measure might be reported to the assembly by Wednesday, Assemblyman Thomas Reynolds of Door county was concluding the final features of a similar measure which throws new complications in the way of an immediate consideration of this problem.

Upon considering the Jones bill, the committee on roads and bridges discovered that the main criticism of the measure was that too great power was conferred in the towns and counties and not enough in the state. To obviate this objection, Assemblyman Jones has drafted an amendment increasing the powers of the state commissioners. In that they may hold any county liable for an accepted piece of road for a period of two years. This will compel the counties to construct not only the best road possible, but the power of withholding any additional appropriations to that county until the roads already constructed have been found in satisfactory condition.

The Jones bill is drafted upon the reimbursement plan. The county has the power to approve of roads constructed by the town and the state commission has the power to approve of the roads accepted by the county before the awarding of the one-third appropriation by the state. It is understood that additional amendments will be presented on the floor to fix a greater equality of power between the state commission and the county board of supervisors.

The feature of the Jones bill which encountered the greatest objection has been made the predominant one in a new bill drafted by Assemblyman Reynolds which will be offered as a substitute measure either on Wednesday or Thursday. He complains that the state is given too much power in both of the measures presented by Senator Browne. He thinks the town and county should have practically complete supervision over state highway construction. His bill does not provide for any state commission or any state supervision, but simply that each county must elect a highway engineer. When a town has constructed a piece of highway and it has been approved by the county engineer and board of supervisors, the record of its cost may be certified to the state treasurer, who must pay for one-third of the cost of construction. The remaining two-thirds of the cost is divided equally between the county and the town in which the road is built, recognizing the principle of the present highway law.

"The people know what kind of roads they want," declared Assemblyman Reynolds last night, "and the people are the state. Door county adopted the present highway law, whereby a town can have one-half of the cost of highway construction paid by the county. It has worked so successfully that I think this principle should be adopted in the proposed highway law."

The bill by Senator Browne, while recognizing the feature of the state board, one-third of the expense, places large powers in the hands of a state engineer and the board of geological survey. Senator Browne contends that by this system a more uniform method of highway construction and a higher standard of road building can be maintained, that will not be subject to the whimsical ideas of a locality.

The introduction of a new bill so late in the session is believed by some of the members will necessitate that the problem will have to be delayed until the special session of the legislature next January.

CHICAGO POLICE ALL REMEMBER THIS DATE

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Chicago, Ill., May 4.—Today is the anniversary of the two most memorable events in the criminal records of Chicago—events that will long live in the memories of Chicago policemen. The great Haymarket riot, in which six policemen were killed and sixty others seriously injured by bombs thrown by anarchists, occurred May 4, 1886. Three years later, on May 4, 1889, the noted murder of Dr. Patrick H. Cronin took place. Deaths of those connected with the trials subsequent to these tragedies have been numerous, most of them unnatural.

ANOTHER BIT OF FORMER HISTORY

TEN THOUSAND PEOPLE ATTEND-ED BIG MASS MEETING
IN 1868.

A COUNTY SCHOOL RALLY

Governor Fairchild and Other Prominent Men Were Present at the Gathering.

One of the bits of unwritten history of Janesville just after the close of the war was the big county school rally held in Janesville in 1868. Josiah T. Wright, who has written several interesting articles on early Janesville days, has given a good account of this famous gathering when ten thousand people were present:

I think it was in 1868 there was held the largest gathering (without possibly our County Agricultural fair) in Rock county. The Woodmen have been here in great numbers but from all parts of the state and others, while at this one every town was represented by its citizens. The place of meeting was "Patten Grove" (now Forest Park). The committee on grounds had everything in readiness. Swings were put up, barrels of ice water ready. The day was perfect. About eight o'clock arrivals commenced and continued until the main business streets were filled with girls and boys in white, with badges of various colors representing their town, and men and boys, happy as larks in anticipation of the treat they were to have in listening to the addresses of two distinguished scholars and speakers—the then governor of Wisconsin, the late Lucius Fairchild, and Samuel J. Fallows, superintendent of state instruction.

The procession formed on Milwaukee street led by the officers of the day and our brass band and several others interspersed. Notices and flags added to the beauty of the scene. Arriving at the grove, the place selected for the entertainment was a natural amphitheatre—speakers' platform at the bottom and the audience ranged on three sides, with a hill rising from 70 to 100 feet. The singing, I think, was led by the late John Wingate, who with the late Judges John H. Bennett and Amos P.
Pritchard, would prefer a good song to a meal. As the voices poured forth their music ten thousand, more or less, strong it made the walking ring. Such music was never heard here and I do not know as it ever will be again. It certainly was like the voice of many waters, sublime beyond description.

As Gov. Fairchild, who, as a general, had so recently come from the war, stood with an empty sleeve the audience rose and gave him cheer after cheer which continued a long time. As he began to speak every ear was attentive, listening with rapt attention. The subject, "The Value of Liberty," what it cost in the times of the Revolution, as well as the Rebellion, the only hope for the perpetuity of our nation, was consecrated lives to a purpose, to purity, in supreme love to God, our homes and native land. There was no attempt at oratory, but a patriotic talk, giving some of his experiences during the war.

The other speaker was the then State Sup't. of Schools Fallows, now bishop of the reformed Episcopal church. The address was scholarly, in fact could be nothing else coming from him. His subject was "Opportunity for Young People to Make an Advance in Civilization." The first stepping-stone was education, without which there was little to be gained. Those who heard him will remember his reference to Bret Harte and quotations from him. His own advance strikingly illustrates his theme. He made a strong appeal to the boys, that their inclinations were known by businessmen and the community. If their purposes were high and noble they would be esteemed and their virtues commended and when ready to enter business, employment awaited them.

The exercises over, groups were formed, and sitting around well-filled tables dinner was served. No one was left to go home hungry, for there was always enough for all, and one more. The afternoon was spent in sports by the young, and visiting by the older ones. The day was perfect and when looked back upon is one of the bright spots in our lives.

NEW TRUSTEES OF FIREMEN'S FUND

Met and Organized Last Evening—
Pension Project Treasury Now Contains $1,872.60.

At the city hall last evening the board of trustees of the Firemen's Pension Fund met for organization and elected Mayor Wilbur F. Carle, president; City Clerk Roy Cummings, secretary; and City Treasurer James A. Fathens, treasurer. The other members of the board are Fire Chief H. C.
Klein, George Osgood, C. J. Murphy, and W. H. Scott. At the present time the fund amounts to $1,872.60 and it is being slowly increased each month by the retention of one per cent. of the salaries of all the paid firemen.
Once a year it receives a large addition in the shape of one half of the two per cent tax on fire insurance premiums. All the members of the department are comparatively young and if all goes well and there are no deaths or accidents which disable for life, the treasury will be in excellent condition when it comes time to retire any of the members on half pay by reason of old age or long service.

The law which made the creation of this fund possible also provided that the members of the police department could proceed in a similar manner if they so desired, stipulating that all revenue from dog licenses, poll taxes, and several other rather unreliable sources should go into the treasury thereof. The inducements in the latter instance have not thus far been sufficient to tempt the local officers.

STOUGHTON MAN KILLED; FELL BETWEEN THE CARS

Oscar Olson, 21 years old, a resident of Stoughton, who while in an intoxicated condition, attempted to board a North-Western train, 538, about 22 rods south of Jefferson Junction, after being warned off by the brakeman, fell between the cars and was instantly killed. His body was cut in half and one arm severed. Olson with two companions rode with Conductor Connolly from Ft. Atkinson to Jefferson Junction, and was attempting to steal a ride south on train 538 in charge of Engineer Goslin and Conductor Lowry, when the accident occurred. His body was left in charge of the station agent and coroner at Jefferson.

BRAKEMAN O'BRIEN WAS INJURED AT CLINTON JUNCTION

Brakeman John O'Brien, while working on a big furniture car at Clinton last night, lost his balance and was compelled to jump to the ground, injuring his left foot and ankle severely. He was working on 506 at the time with Engineer J. M.
Smith and Fireman Kaufmann, and came up on that train to the new yards where he was put on engine 537 and brought down town to his home on South Washington Street.

Engineer Schoenberg and Fireman Hacksaw went south with 580 last night on account of pool crews resting.

count of pool crews resting.

brass scale rod which some one had appropriated without permission.

Switchman John Erdman is on the half-and-half in place of Ed. Bier, who laid off on account of running a spike into his foot.

Conductor Ruggles had 528 this morning.

The real reason for the closing up of the new hotel has just come to light and is explained by the fact that the night force at the new yards refused to patronize it on the grounds that they could furnish much better "chow" in their own private dining-car, which is located near the club-pit. Practically the entire night force ate in the diner, where they have a complete set of cooking utensils, an elaborate menu and a skilled chef and head waiter. The new establishment is called the "Waldorf Castoria."

Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul Engineers Cornelius and Wilkinson and Fireman Rooney and Duxstad

Brakeman John McCarthy relieved Robert Brown on the Davis Junction way-freight last night.

Engineer Wilkinson and Fireman
Duxstad took out 91 this morning.

Fireman Kenley went out this morning on number 7 with Engineer Harrison.

Engineer Oldenberg was on 166 last night with Conductor Keyes.

Queer Habits of Authors.

Both Dumas and Balzac showed no inclination to pass the whe-bottle. On the other hand, Voltaire drank huge quantities of coffee when engaged in writing. As a matter of fact, overindulgence in that beverage during a protracted literary effort was the real cause of his death. Schiller also drank coffee "to thaw the frost out of his wits," but he fancied imbibing the infusion while seated with his feet in hot water. This, he believed, stimulated his imagination in sluggish moods, and he refreshed it during work by copious draughts from a flask of Rhenish wine.

Surprising What Kodol Will Do

For you, when you need it. But the longer you neglect Indigestion the more you will suffer.

And, of course, indigestion if neglected long enough, brings on serious diseases in which Kodol cannot benefit you. Some of these there is no help for at all. There are, in fact, very few ailments which cannot be traced directly to impure blood. And impure blood is always due to a disordered stomach. Use Kodol and prevent Nervous Dyspepsia. Kodol will effectually assist Nature to secure a complete restoration of good digestion. It does this by at once digesting all food in the stomach and keeping it digested, until the stomach is rested and can resume its own work. Kodol removes the cause—and the effect quickly removes itself.
When it is recalled that Apoplexy, Heart Disease, Cancer—and even Consumption—are due to poor digestion and poisons thus transmitted to the blood; and throughout the system—the importance of maintaining good digestion is at once realized. We know what Kodol would do before even the first bottle was sold. If we did not know just what it will do, we would not guarantee it the way we do. Every tablespoonful will digest 2½ pounds of food.

H. H. BLISS,

STATE CIVIL SERVICE

The advocates of state civil service are discovering that the sole object and ultimate purpose of the scheme was politics, pure and simple. The civil service commission is a creature of the governor, and responsible to nobody. It is composed of three men who are willing to work for the princely salary of $3000 a year. Why? Because of the autocratic authority enjoyed and political influence controlled.

Not satisfied with past achievements, an effort is now being made, through a bill in the legislature, to enlarge the domain of this autocratic body by giving it more power than the supreme court of the state.

The commission now has the power of appointment for all classes of state employees, and now seeks to have absolute control, so far as discharges are concerned. Should it become a law no state superintendent can discharge an employee, however incapable he may be. A Milwaukee correspondent thus sizes up the situation:

"The trouble with the present civil service commission is that its members or officers are too busy grasping for more power to attend properly to the duties entrusted to them. It is not the desire to be of service to the state which animates them so much as the wish to become the whole works here in the capitol and if this substitute bill, which will come up before the committee on claims tomorrow afternoon, should pass the legislature and receive the signature of the governor that would be the result.

As it is, the credentials of the civil service commission are held by members of the state board of control and by the heads of the state government to be worth less than the paper they are written on. Such officials confess they do not desire an appointment on these credentials without a careful investigation of the antecedents of the candidate. If the members of the commission and its secretary would put half the labor into the work of securing good, capable men for vacancies in the state service which they now put into efforts to increase their power, the result would be most gratifying.

"There has been no case of a request that a position of trust or responsibility be held exempt from the civil service examination in which the commission has not fought the matter to the bitter end. So it was with the position of chief clerk in the secretary of state's office, a position where the incumbent handles $250,000 a year; so it was with the position of first assistant attorney general, and so it has been all along the line.

"This substitute bill practically sets the commission above the supreme court, for it is provided that the decision of the commission shall in all cases be final, except where dismissal is alleged for political or religious reasons. The commission, too, at $3000 a year, is authorized to appoint stenographers, clerks and examiners and to fix their salaries, something which is left to no other department of the state government.

"The state treasurer gives a bond of $300,000, draws a salary of $5,000 a year and yet would be unable, without first obtaining the permission of the civil service commission, to discharge the meanest clerk in his department. Yet the treasurer personally is responsible for the probity and conduct of every person in the employ of his department."

The head of a department has less authority than a section boss and yet is held responsible for good services. This civil service force was tolsted on the state by a reform governor, for political purposes, pure and simple. It is an ally of the gubernatorial proposition, yet more harmful. The law is a disgrace to an intelligent state and should be removed from the statute books.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING

The demand to get something for nothing is so universal that an effort is being made to revise the work-day, on the following plan:

"If, on May 1st of each year, the standard of time throughout the United States was advanced two hours, so that what is now five o'clock became seven o'clock, etc., and changed back to our present standard on October 1st, it would add greatly to the health, comfort, and pleasure of all, through the summer, without necessitating any change as to daily habits, or create any more confusion than if a western man went to some point east, having a time one or two hours faster than that to which he was accustomed, but would give two hours additional light for recreation and health-giving exercise, and the use of two of the coolest and best hours of the day for labor. Americans, in this manner, would obtain what those in England greatly enjoy today, namely, two additional hours of light.

"This would leave the same number of hours for business and sleep as now, and would give two better hours for the day's work, and two additional hours of daylight to the evening hours, which today are too short to be of much benefit to those living any considerable distance from their place of business, and, as the hours after business are the only portion of the week-day devoted to pleasure and exercise, the lengthening of same would be appreciated by all.

"Nothing is more conducive to health than outdoor exercise, such as ball, tennis, golf, boating, bathing, gardening, etc., so why not readjust the hours devoted to business, sleep, and pleasure to the benefit of all?

"Thousands of families would, under these circumstances, move into the country or suburbs, who are now held back by the fact that the man at the present time could not reach their homes until too late to get much benefit from a move of this kind.

"As elderly persons and children are given to early rising, the breakfast hour will become more regular, and many annoyances of today will be avoided, and, during the heated term, it should prove of special benefit to the school children.

"As a rule, nearly every proposed rule, law, or custom works a positive injury or hardship to many who club together and bring about much opposition; it delays and discourages those interested in its passage, but, in this case, as no property is destroyed or depreciated, no one can be interested in opposing it, and it is one of the few changes that could be made to benefit all citizens of each and every state in exactly the same proportion, and not call for the expenditure of money by the government, state, or people. Railroads would not be compelled to change their timetables, as all trains would leave in future at the same hour as today. Local travel would be greatly increased, additional money put in circulation by the purchase of such things as are used for pleasure and recreation, and additional value would be given to what already exists in the way of parks, playgrounds, gardens, resorts, boating and bathing facilities, tennis courts, automobiles, carriages, bicycles, etc., etc.

"In England, though they enjoy in summer time the benefits to be derived from a movement of this kind, they are endeavoring to establish a custom to more closely follow the movements of the sun, which would enable them to gain millions of dollars paid out each year for artificial light. This change is being opposed, however, by every gas and electric light company, and their stockholders in every village and hamlet throughout the kingdom, so that the proposed movement in America should not be confused with that being accomplished in England; and should be accomplished at a comparatively early date, from the very fact that it injures none and would be of great benefit to millions.

"To be beneficial and not confusing, it is necessary that the law or custom become universal throughout the United States. It has no political significance, so all should lend their aid to the movement. Talk it up. See that your friends thoroughly understand it. Remember that millions in England, for centuries, have been accustomed to exactly these same hours and its benefits. If you do not need these additional hours for recreation yourself, aid in obtaining it for those who do."

The scheme is novel, but it is worth thinking about. Two hours additional daylight with an expense would increase earning capacity, afford ample time for rest and recreation, and interfere with nothing but the morning nap and lighting companies.

round billion dollars. More than half the amount is for pensions and the support of the army and navy. Just where the pruning knife can be applied is a problem difficult to solve.

And now the stocking is on the other foot. Word has come out through the manufacturing districts of New England that if the tariff is reduced on woody that a cut of 20 percent in wages will follow, and congress is besieged with petitions from factory girls to preserve the duty. This tariff proposition is a great question, and the man who said it was a local issue was about right.

The state of Maryland has appropriated $5,000,000 to aid in building good roads, and other states are showing the same intelligent interest. Wisconsin can not afford to let her by the way. Good roads mean more for permanent wealth than any other class of improvements.

The state is made that 500 new model order houses are waiting to enter the field as soon as congress passes the parcels post bill, and the chances are that this number would be duplicated in a year. Congress can afford to think twice and then kill the measure.

Rock county should have many miles of road as good as the sample near Clinton, before snow flies, and will have it if the work is intelligently done. Better to build a mile right than to stink over a dozen miles in the old-fashioned way.

When the new workday is established it will mean breakfast at 4 o'clock, dinner at 10, and supper at 3, with a cold lunch at early candle-light, just before retiring.

Ex-President Roosevelt is setting a pace for hunting big game that is liable to flood the African jungles with sportsmen from all parts of the world. The country will be well advertised long before the year is out.

A representative from Oregon is enlightening the legislature as to how that state conducted a primary election on $3,000. Wisconsin has much to learn.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

(Copyright, 1909, by American Press Association.)

HOW OLD ARE YOU?

Thomas A. Edison, the inventor, estimates that he is 120 years old. That is to say, he estimates the length of his life by the amount of energy he has put into his life's work. If the results of a life are to be estimated, compared with the results of the average man's life Edison is 1,000 or even 10,000 years old. He has produced that much more than most men.

It is a sort of self generating dynamo. Energy is will power in action. The man's will says, "I will do this thing," and the latent energy in the man is coupled up with his will, and the result is activity.

When the human machine is thus put into motion its velocity and momentum keep it going for a time. When it stacks up the will-power, generator, gives out a new impulse, and the machine is kept going.

Only—To be effective the activity thus generated must be properly employed. A man's generator and dynamo may be all right, and the latter may revolve 10,000 times a minute, the shafting and belts may be turning, and yet the machine may wear itself out doing nothing.

Many men spend enough energy doing nothing when they might do great tasks if only they were properly coupled up.

It is the rare man like Edison who knows how to so adjust the machinery of his life as to apply every ounce of his mental and physical energy to doing things.

Measured by what he has done, Edison is older than Methuselah.

How old are you, measured by that standard?

Are you really twenty, thirty, or forty, or fifty, or sixty years old? Perhaps you have put in enough work, say, at fifty to be really a hundred years old—and failed.

Well, a man is measured no less by what he has really tried to do than by what he has done.

Philip James Bailey has put the whole matter so admirably it cannot be bettered:

We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths;
In feelings, not figures on a dial.
We should not count time by heart throbs.
He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

Measured by the poet's standard, how long have you lived?

chap as you was never seen! O, these splendid modern lads never will be like their dads, who were Samsons and Golaths in their youth; so in sentimental strain you recall the past glory, and bring teardrops from the stern eyes of Truth. When beneath the sun or moon you are prone to sit and brood on the triumphs of your boyhood, you may know, that you're huxing old and sore, and your tales of yesteryear were related by your granddads, long ago!

Food Which Constitutes Ideal Meal.
It must be remembered that pure starch, pure sugar, pure protein and even pure fat are practically nowhere found in a state of nature. Roughly speaking, a dietary consisting of one-fifth protein, or meat-like food; two-thirds carbohydrate, or starch and sugar foods; and, to use a hibernianism, one-eighth fat, is the proper working proportion. This of course roughly corresponds to the slice of meat, two or more slices of bread, a helping of potatoes, rice or macaroni, the vegetables, the pat of butter and the fruit, sweets, pudding or pie which the average human regards as a "square meal."—Woman's Home Companion.

Charity Concerns Amalgamate.
In response to a demand that they get together, the two leading charitable organizations of Chicago, the Bureau of Charities and the Chicago Relief and Aid society, have effected an amalgamation of forces and will be known hereafter as the United Charities of Chicago. The main reason for the amalgamation is the raising of more funds. At present the Bureau of Charities disburses about $80,000 a year and the Relief and Aid society about $28,000. It is hoped to raise between $200,000 and $400,000 for the combined organizations.

Bulkheads Quickly Closed.
On one of the new trans-Atlantic liners twenty-four bulkhead doors, each weighing half a ton, can be closed from the bridge in 30 seconds by hydraulic power.

Make a Note of This.
There may be no psychological significance contained in the fact, but we may lay down the dictum, nevertheless, that few women who are good bridge players trim their own hats.

Self-Sharpening. Never Loose at the Joints. Clean Cut to end of Blade.

The Tension Spring Attachment on this shear does away with re-sharpening entirely and enables the user to set the tension so that any kind of material may be cut with perfect ease without tiring the hand. Any woman who has had the exasperating and nerve-racking experience of trying to use a dull pair of shears can readily appreciate the value of the new invention which keeps these shears always sharp and in perfect cutting condition.

These shears are heavily nickel-plated and perfectly finished. The blades are tempered by a secret process that gives them a uniformly keen, smooth-cutting edge that cuts clear to points and with their self-sharpening device, they are always kept in perfect condition.

EVERY PAIR GUARANTEED.

The manufacturers guarantee the quality of the material and the workmanship in every pair of these Tension Spring Shears to be first-class, that the Tension Spring Device doubles the usefulness of the shears and will do away with the need of re-sharpening. Furthermore, they furnish a Guarantee Certificate with every pair, agreeing, "That if this pair of shears break or in any way become defective within five years, they will be replaced with a new pair without cost."

A Distinction and a Difference in Shoe Values

Just where one can figure the satisfaction in expending $5 to $6 and $7 for footwear is beyond our comprehension. It may be partly because of distinction in owning shoes or oxfords of these prices; maybe pride,—if so isn't pride worth too much; wouldn't you be willing to sacrifice the trifle, whatever it may be, for the sake of actually securing an identical shoe value for $3, $3.50 and $4? This is not mere talk or side play—we have the shoes and oxfords to back up absolutely the foregoing. We have the experience on top of that which has taught us a few of the fallacies of business. In the makes of footwear represented in this stock, both for men and women, we know that at $3, $3.50 and $4 we give you the equal every way to the extra priced goods;—then why throw away the extra dollars.

Deafness Cannot be Cured.

By recent applications, as they cannot reach the eardrums, and the ear-canal is closed. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by inflammation of the mucous membrane of the mucous lining of the Eustachian tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a "catarrh" of the ear, and the ear-canal is closed, and it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of the tube, restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; also causes out of the ear caused by catarrh, which in nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

Educate Your Clerks to Help Advertise Your Store

Newspaper advertising will not do it all. It will call the attention of people to your store and what you have in it, but after they get there, it's up to you and your clerks to sell the goods and "cash in" on the advertising. Instruct your clerks to read your ads and keep in touch with what you are advertising. Then when a customer calls for something in one department, be sure the clerk calls her attention to a special sale or bargain in some other department. This method of suggestion is what people look for and want. A woman who comes to your store and buys some ribbon, who is told by the clerk that the store is making some special prices on laces, will in many cases go to the lace counter to see what is offered there. This sort of "suggestion" is but one of many ways of assisting your advertising and making it more profitable.
